We are extremely pleased to be able to add the successful range of RAMS boards to enhance our portfolio of SAFETY STATION products.

As with our original Safety Station, the RAMS boards offer an essential method of communication and provider of safety equipment direct to the workforce, displayed in a consistent and professional manner.

Available as standard units in a range of seven colours, we will be stocking and promoting the basic yellow unit and red Fire Point unit.

As with our original Safety Station, both these units can be populated with a wide range of accessories to suit your requirements and environments - all available from The Colour Red Ltd.
